

Husband of One Wife: An Exegesis

Chris Shirley, Jeff Manning, Mike Trimble,
Jeff Blair, Danny Baer, Editor Doug Carey

- Multiple authors
- Addresses timely issues
- Focuses on Scripture

Husband of One Wife: An Exegesis provides an in-depth examination of a key biblical qualification for pastor–marital status—and discusses contrasting views and interpretations of various qualifications listed in 1 Timothy 3:1-7, with particular attention to how divorce impacts one’s ability to serve in the role of minister. Addresses the questions: Is the Divorced Minister Permanently Disqualified From Pastoral Ministry?, Must the Local Church Pastor Be Married?, Is “Husband of One Wife” More Important Than the Other Pastoral Requirements...or Do They Possess Equal Weight?, Is Polygamy Part of the Equation?, and Can A Divorced Pastor Lead in Ministry Again?

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

CHRIS SHIRLEY, PH.D., is on faculty at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

JEFF MANNING, D.MIN., is an adjunct professor at Welch College and pastor at Unity Church in Greenville, North Carolina.

MIKE TRIMBLE, M.DIV., pastor of Kirby Church in Michigan.

JEFF BLAIR, D.MIN. NEW TESTAMENT CONTEXT; M.DIV.; B.A. IN THEOLOGY, pastor of Locust Grove FWBC in Oklahoma.

DANNY BAER, PH.D., has ministered in Ohio, Virginia, and North Carolina.

DOUG CAREY, pastor Crossroads Free Will Baptist Church in Jenks, Oklahoma.

VITAL INFO

Available On December 6, 2021

Page Count: 88

Price: $14.99

Audience:
Ordaining Councils, Pastors,
and Church Leaders